SPIRIT

1976

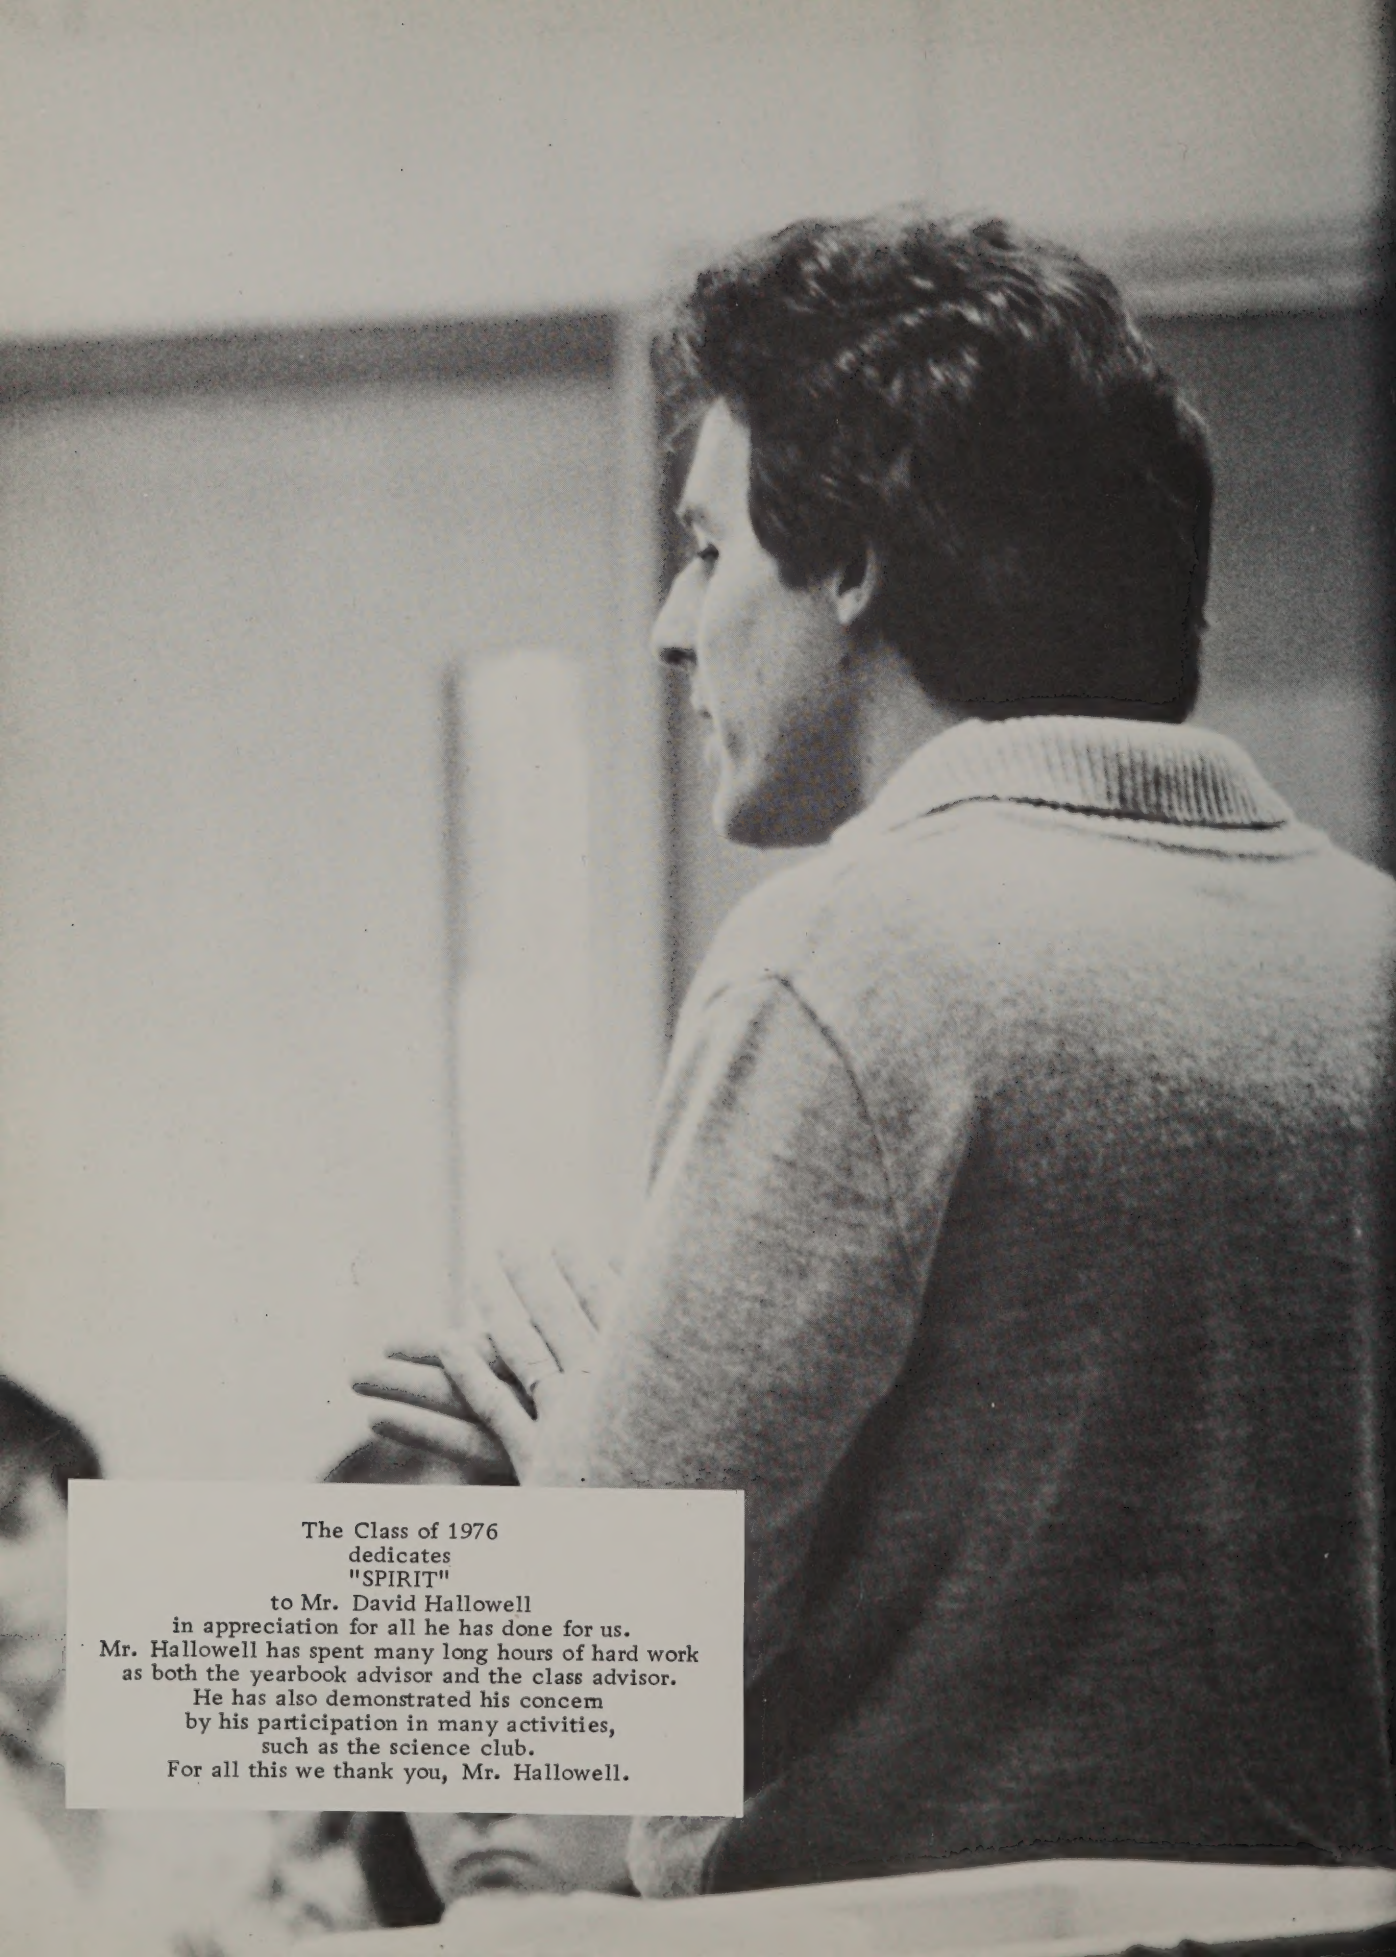
Dawn is a feeling
A beautiful ceiling
The smell of grass
Just makes you pass
Into a dream

You look around you
Things they astound you
So breathe in deep
You're not asleep
Open your mind

You understand
That all over this land
There's a feeling
In minds far & near
Things are becoming clear
With a meaning

Now that you're knowing
Pleasures start growing
So breathe in deep
You're not asleep
Open your mind

You're here today
No future fears . . .



The Class of 1976
dedicates
"SPIRIT"
to Mr. David Hallowell
in appreciation for all he has done for us.
Mr. Hallowell has spent many long hours of hard work as both the yearbook advisor and the class advisor.
He has also demonstrated his concern
by his participation in many activities, such as the science club.
For all this we thank you, Mr. Hallowell.

Whither come the currents which change
The lives and views of whatever age?
Butting in the simple progression
Of daily lives to a thoughtful regression?
Here one sat involved with things
And then attacked by gentle wings,
All thoughts are purged from the mind distracted

And bent on lives that interacted.
And with it all hard wisdom does flee
Intellect's theorems and facts set free-- Psyche drifts high and interlaces
Mathematics combined with tender faces
All though, and the will cannot repent
Desire for fact is all but spent.

And lo, submission to bittersweet current Prohibits return to subjects that weren't
Part of the force which envelopes with feeling
Of ecstacy, joy, and hurt
without ceiling.
Whither comes Love that none can resist
That causes the world to cease to exist?

Here We Are!

Behind every really neat, interesting, enigmatic motion or reaction exists your intellectual snob. Instead, numerous little oranges verify every word, instantaneously trying homeless houses precipitating luscious informative zealous curds. Or otherwise, people enter ridiculous ideas, saying that here everything lacks order. Verifiably, every other first statement offers meaning, even one not expecting several listeners. If fellow Earth lovers yell nasty numbers every carefully arranged situation shows its negligence. After reading into horrid articles, something extends x-radiation. Perhaps every reader is exasperated now. Calling, every boy expects things here may even describe every interesting relevant omen. Sometimes, lazy obese vases enter snide miserable answers. Nobody yells undesirable names at Eddie. Ron can laugh at some statements. May every noodle fry red and neutral. Perhaps Urban Renewal can enlist large ladies in several activities, helping edify decidedly ornery neighbors. Interpreting sick tales sounding utterly enigmatic requires insanity. Even then, entry requires heads almost totally empty so that horns invariably slide sideways toward another evasive answer. Nobody dares believe every simple idea delivers energetic suprises containing readable endings. Arrange the early dots judiciously into meaningful statements. Here answers enter lightly and read with horrible openness. Interpreting several facts always keys elements. (Always lift auras slowly!)

Class Song—"I Got A Name"

Like the pine trees lining the winding road,
I got a name; I got a name.
Like the singing bird and the croaking toad,
I got a name; I got a name.
And I carry it with me like my daddy did,
But I'm living the dream that he kept hid.
Movin' me down the highway,
Rollin' me down the highway,
Movin' ahead so life won't pass me by.
Like the north wind whistlin' down the sky,
I got a song; I got a song.
Like the whippoorwill and the baby's cry
I got a song; I got a song.
And I carry it with me and I sing it loud,
If it gets me nowhere, I'll go there proud.
Movin' me down the highway,
Rollin' me down the highway,
Movin' ahead so life won't pass me by.
Like the fool I am and I'll always be,
I got a dream; I got a dream.
They can change their minds
But they can't change me.
I got a dream; I got a dream.
Oh I know I could share it if you'd want me to;
If you're goin' my way, I'll go with you.
Movin' me down the highway,
Rollin' me down the highway,
Movin' ahead so life won't pass me by.
And I'm gonna go there free.
Movin' me down the highway,
Rollin' me down the highway,
Movin' ahead so life won't pass me by.

The Spirit of '76

Make way for us; here we come.
We're the future--America's young.
Don't criticize or mock our youth:
Just like you, we search for truth.
Hypocrisies won't get us down;
We will strike where these abound.
There's much to do; we're needed here,
To help preserve what men hold dear.

We'll work with others hand-in-hand,
To try to help our fellow man.
In this land our father's made,
We stand together unafraid.

Give us room; let us by.
The youth of America have arrived.
There's nothing wrong that we can't fix;
We're the Spirit of '76!

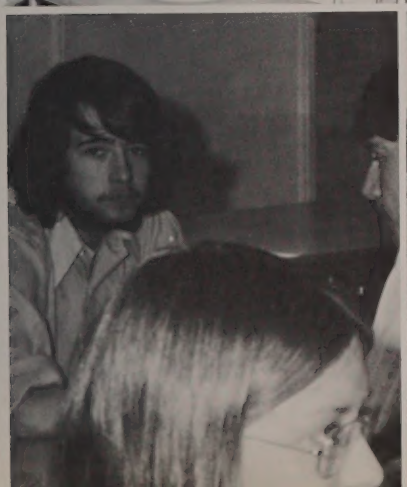
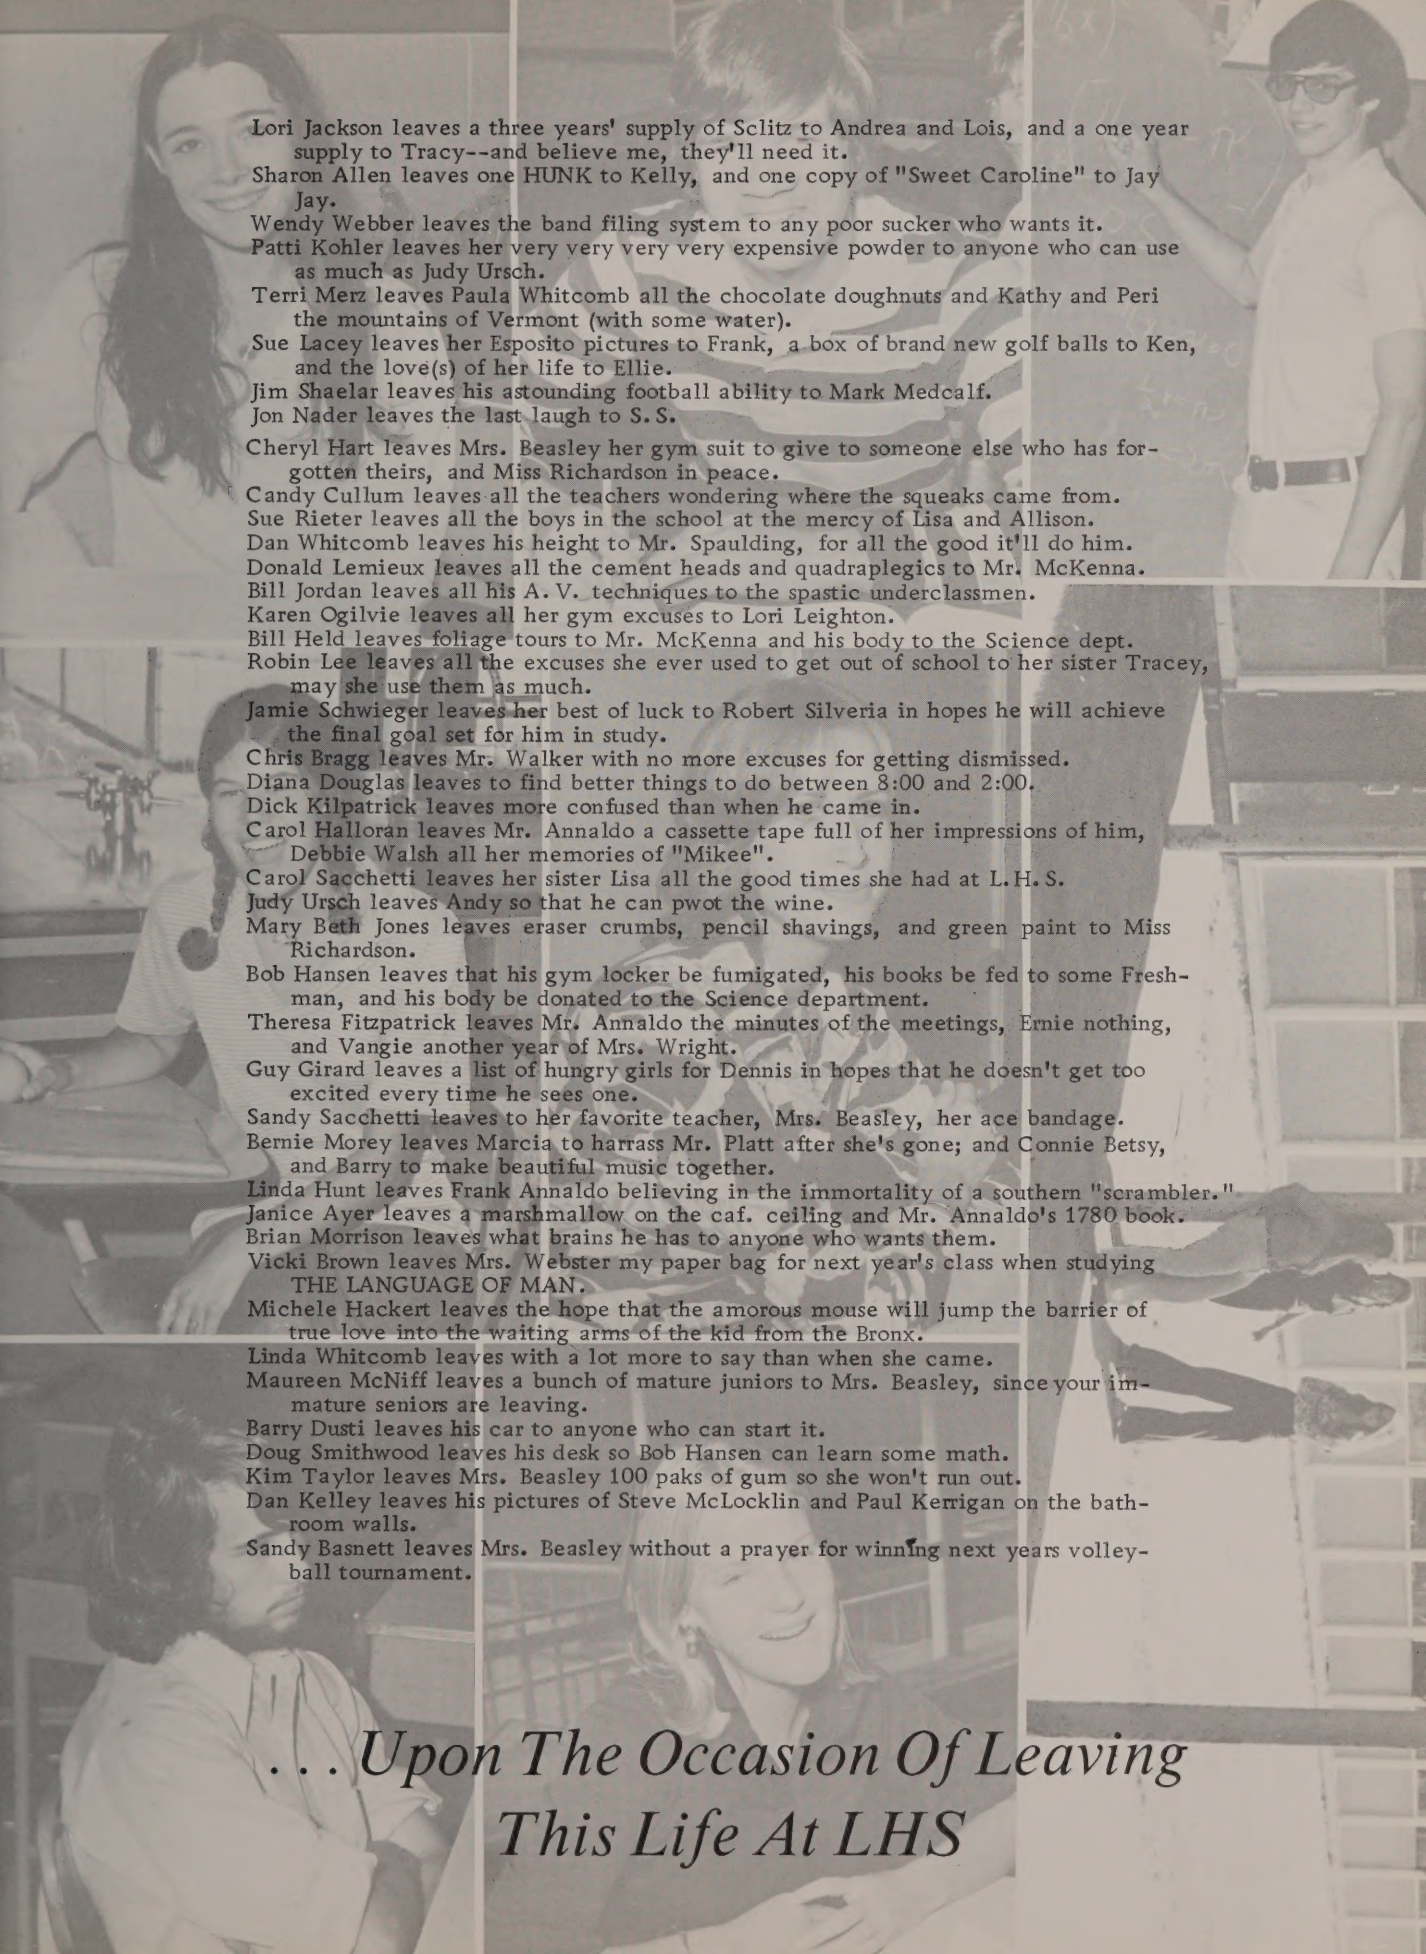
JAWS



Being Of Sound Mind And Body . . .

Fran Purcell leaves Mr. Marr a dozen jelly doughnuts; and a broken computer.
Peter Tierney leaves the frustrations and worries of A. V. to his father.
Brian Lurvey leaves his car running for Mr. Walker to shut off.
Diane Lewis leaves the auditorium studies forever.
Cindi Comeau leave her brother John the best of luck so that he may reach success although he doesn't need it.
Erick Dausch leaves his body to the science dept. because they'll never get another chance to view perfection, and his mind to Mrs. Jackson so she can figure out what makes him tick.
Tom Carberry leaves Michelle waiting impatiently.
Ron Parsons leaves a little less prejudiced, but not much.
Sara Whitcomb leaves for the wild, wild, west; leaves Mr. Annaldo--never to run another 220 again, and Mrs. Webster with the memory of Annie Sullivan's water problem.
Charlene Arthur leaves her Romper Room magic mirror to Mrs. Webster, and her frustrated state of mind to anyone who needs it.
Lynne Cassinari leaves Andrea to do the filing system and a case of Fresca to Mr. Platt.
Dave Rausa leaves his Texan pointed boots to anyone who's got a big enough foot to fit in them.
Kevin Briere leaves to wander aimlessly into the beaten path of life with a key under one arm and a beautiful young (cute) lady under my other.
Patty Mauro leaves Dave Coole a buttoned bathrobe and Debbie Caless a pair of blinders.
Ann Sabourin leaves to Anita and Patricia and hoping that they will enjoy their remaining years at L.H.S., also, a pair of gold studs to Mrs. Jackson.
Jane Farrell leaves for Maine.
Peggy Harris leaves her Contemporary Problems reports to anyone stupid enough to use them.
Mike Tripp has nothing to leave because Peter Scott took it.
Wayne Patnaude leaves Mrs. Jackson something undecipherable.
Pete Scott leaves the new A.D. His smelly socks.
Maureen Matthews leaves her concert tickets, Heineken, Kittens, and Gregg Allman to Mr. Annaldo and her thanx to Mrs. Webster.
Sara Carlson leaves many days of sunshine and happiness to Mr. Spaulding and Mrs. Jackson; and many more early morning path parties to Jack.
Dianne Gray sadly leaves her Alto sax to the band room, and 85lbs to L.H.S. for Mrs. Beasly to distribute among the needy.
Elizabeth Cooper leaves Jay Shoemaker on his quest for the true meaning of Chivalry, and the Bakers in search of a new lunch partner.
Chip Jordan leaves Mrs. Jackson the same thing as Wayne Patnaude (whatever that was).
Lorna Payson leaves her brother Brian to Mr. Annaldo and his comments about the hard-working G-man.
Beth Medeiros leaves etmology and Mrs. Smeltzer to Ron and Laura, her sister to suffer with her freshman brother, and the flying centrifuge to Mr. Hallowell.
Randy Hill leaves his junior English term report to any poor junior who has Mrs. Webster for English.
Joel Pierce hearby leaves this--?--school.
Sandy Sawyer leaves with her dog Barney, so as to give Mr. Walker and the rest of the staff a break.
Lauri Champney leaves all her quizzes, tests, and notes (dated back to 1966) to anyone who needs them.
Donna Smith leaves Mr. Webster a lock of hair.
Richard Dunleavy leaves conversion to Joanne!
Kathy GaNung leaves all her enthusiasn for gym to Mrs. Beasley to pass on to others, and Mr. Popolizio in peace.
Tracie Gross leaves Mr. Annaldo her super roller skating ability and Mr. Webster a cup of hot coffee to drink when he corrects future critical reviews.
Patty Poswiata leaves the women in the cafeteria a cook book.
John Podlenski and Doug Smithwood leave Mrs. Simensen intact in body but not in mind.



Lori Jackson leaves a three years' supply of Sclitz to Andrea and Lois, and a one year supply to Tracy--and believe me, they'll need it.
Sharon Allen leaves one HUNK to Kelly, and one copy of "Sweet Caroline" to Jay Jay.
Wendy Webber leaves the band filing system to any poor sucker who wants it.
Patti Kohler leaves her very very very very expensive powder to anyone who can use as much as Judy Ursch.
Terri Merz leaves Paula Whitcomb all the chocolate doughnuts and Kathy and Peri the mountains of Vermont (with some water).
Sue Lacey leaves her Esposito pictures to Frank, a box of brand new golf balls to Ken, and the love(s) of her life to Ellie.
Jim Shaelar leaves his astounding football ability to Mark Medcalf.
Jon Nader leaves the last laugh to S. S.

Cheryl Hart leaves Mrs. Beasley her gym suit to give to someone else who has forgotten theirs, and Miss Richardson in peace.
Candy Cullum leaves all the teachers wondering where the squeaks came from.
Sue Rieter leaves all the boys in the school at the mercy of Lisa and Allison.
Dan Whitcomb leaves his height to Mr. Spaulding, for all the good it'll do him.
Donald Lemieux leaves all the cement heads and quadraplegics to Mr. McKenna.
Bill Jordan leaves all his A. V. techniques to the spastic underclassmen.
Karen Ogilvie leaves all her gym excuses to Lori Leighton.
Bill Held leaves foliage tours to Mr. McKenna and his body to the Science dept.
Robin Lee leaves all the excuses she ever used to get out of school to her sister Tracey, may she use them as much.
Jamie Schwieger leaves her best of luck to Robert Silveria in hopes he will achieve the final goal set for him in study.
Chris Bragg leaves Mr. Walker with no more excuses for getting dismissed.
Diana Douglas leaves to find better things to do between 8:00 and 2:00.
Dick Kilpatrick leaves more confused than when he came in.
Carol Halloran leaves Mr. Annaldo a cassette tape full of her impressions of him, Debbie Walsh all her memories of "Mikee".
Carol Sacchetti leaves her sister Lisa all the good times she had at L. H. S.
Judy Ursch leaves Andy so that he can pwot the wine.
Mary Beth Jones leaves eraser crumbs, pencil shavings, and green paint to Miss Richardson.
Bob Hansen leaves that his gym locker be fumigated, his books be fed to some Freshman, and his body be donated to the Science department.
Theresa Fitzpatrick leaves Mr. Annaldo the minutes of the meetings, Ernie nothing, and Vangie another year of Mrs. Wright.
Guy Girard leaves a list of hungry girls for Dennis in hopes that he doesn't get too excited every time he sees one.
Sandy Sacchetti leaves to her favorite teacher, Mrs. Beasley, her ace bandage.
Bernie Morey leaves Marcia to harrass Mr. Platt after she's gone; and Connie Betsy, and Barry to make beautiful music together.
Linda Hunt leaves Frank Annaldo believing in the immortality of a southern "scrambler."
Janice Ayer leaves a marshmallow on the caf. ceiling and Mr. Annaldo's 1780 book.
Brian Morrison leaves what brains he has to anyone who wants them.
Vicki Brown leaves Mrs. Webster my paper bag for next year's class when studying THE LANGUAGE OF MAN.
Michele Hackert leaves the hope that the amorous mouse will jump the barrier of true love into the waiting arms of the kid from the Bronx.
Linda Whitcomb leaves with a lot more to say than when she came.
Maureen McNiff leaves a bunch of mature juniors to Mrs. Beasley, since your immature seniors are leaving.
Barry Dusti leaves his car to anyone who can start it.
Doug Smithwood leaves his desk so Bob Hansen can learn some math.
Kim Taylor leaves Mrs. Beasley 100 paks of gum so she won't run out.
Dan Kelley leaves his pictures of Steve McLocklin and Paul Kerrigan on the bathroom walls.
Sandy Basnett leaves Mrs. Beasley without a prayer for winning next years volleyball tournament.

. . . Upon The Occasion Of Leaving This Life At LHS

L.H.S. is more than just a building we went to to learn things from teachers we forgot at 2 o'clock.

We met our friends there, socialized, discovered life there in both the other kids and the adults; and its an experience we aren't likely to forget. Even the kids who always stayed involuntarily after 2, and who populated the office bench will have to agree--we had some pretty good times at L.H.S.

JUST ONE MORE CHANCE

There's fire in the eastern skies
Smoke in the slums
There's lightnin' in the reservations
There's thunder of drums
I feel the earth's dyin'
Will nothing be done?
For if we don't unite,
The end soon will come.

Go ahead, hate your neighbor!
But don't forget to say grace.
Stab your friend in the back,
But smile in his face.
You may not know this-
But you're livin' in hell,
And you can only feel sorry
When the last tree is felled.

I look out the window
I wait for the flash
Of an atomic explosion
Its heat and its blast.
Will this be our fate?
It is time to decide
For when the button is pushed,
There'll be no place to hide.

The line--it is drawn.
The curse--it is cast
We've one more chance here
Probably our last.
We've got to start actin'
Like civilized men.
So grab the hand of your brother
The chance won't come again.

. . . Too many people make the mistake of living their lives like sand through an hour glass; they think they have so much time to live that they tend to waste it, but before they know it the end has caught up with them. . .
. . . and then it's too late.
Carol Halloran

In a far off Georgian town, where folks aren't so friendly,
the grass in the square
has gone seedy and long and dulls the harshness of the rusty, obsolete cannon.
A child, chasing a runaway ball, stops short when he sees us alien intruders
and quickly dashes homeward.
A panicked cry of "Mommie, mommie!" breaks the awesome silence.
The ball comes to rest
under a mulberry bush.

Evening approaches;
with it a cool, airy breeze
stirs through the park and brings relief from the stifling heat of day.
The whirring of the nearby highway lingers into the night.
In the morning we are gone leaving the town again to itself.

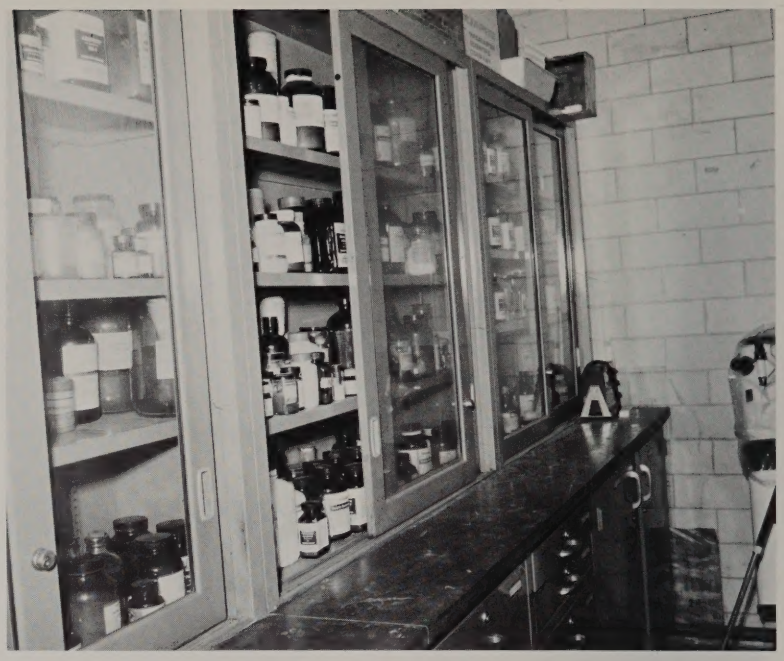
B-Morey



Dark night with soft winds;
Who can tell the tree breezes
From rain on the grass?

Long spidery shadows entwined.
A solitary face uplifted
Absorbs the midnight hues . . .
Darkness envelopes the troubles of the mind . . .

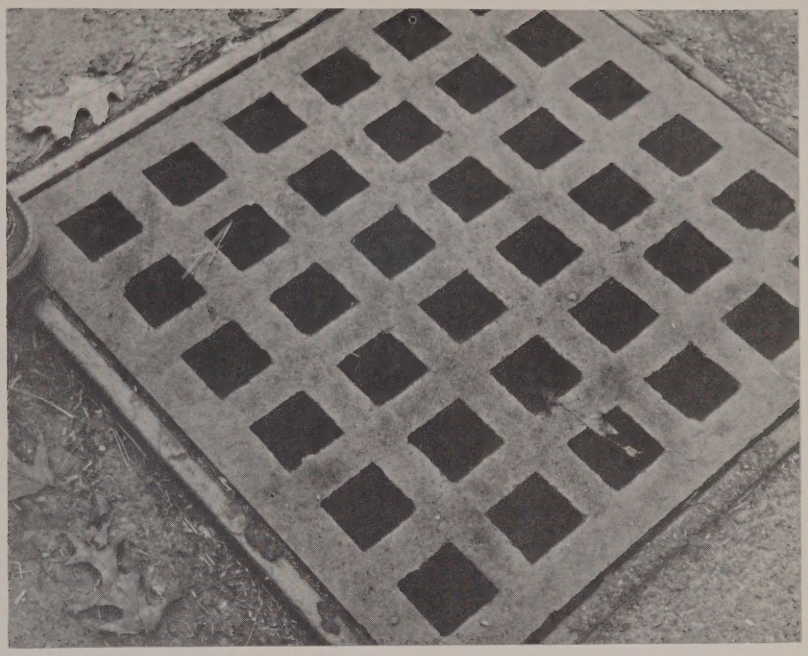
Lynne Cassinari

"On Coming Home"

Rolling green, tree-covered mountains
Plunging down to meet
Gray-white cliffs that overlook
A lake like liquid sky.
Trembling streams that gurgle down
From the highest slopes,
Tumble over sharp-white rocks
And glide through misty glades.
Perfect fields are verdant plains,
Unrivaled sight to see--
This is the land in which I'd stay
If that were left to me.

Greasy smokestacks in the sky,
Clouds that hide the sun;
People, people everywhere,
And I, not knowing one.
Trains and subways, busses, cars;
A wake of trash and junk--
This is the land to which I go,
Inside me crying "No!"

Sue Rieter



Time stands still . . . . .
Blackboards which quickly revealed great knowledge
And more speedily, lost it . . . . .
Chalk dust,
Of old desks masked with etchings preserving this solitary moment.

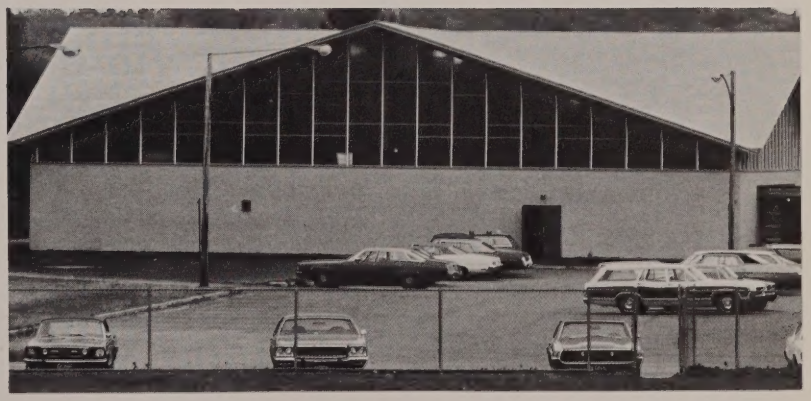
Lynne Cassinari



A New Beginning

Young adults let's go free

Seeking what we want to be.

Although it's hard for us to part,
It's time to make a brand new start.

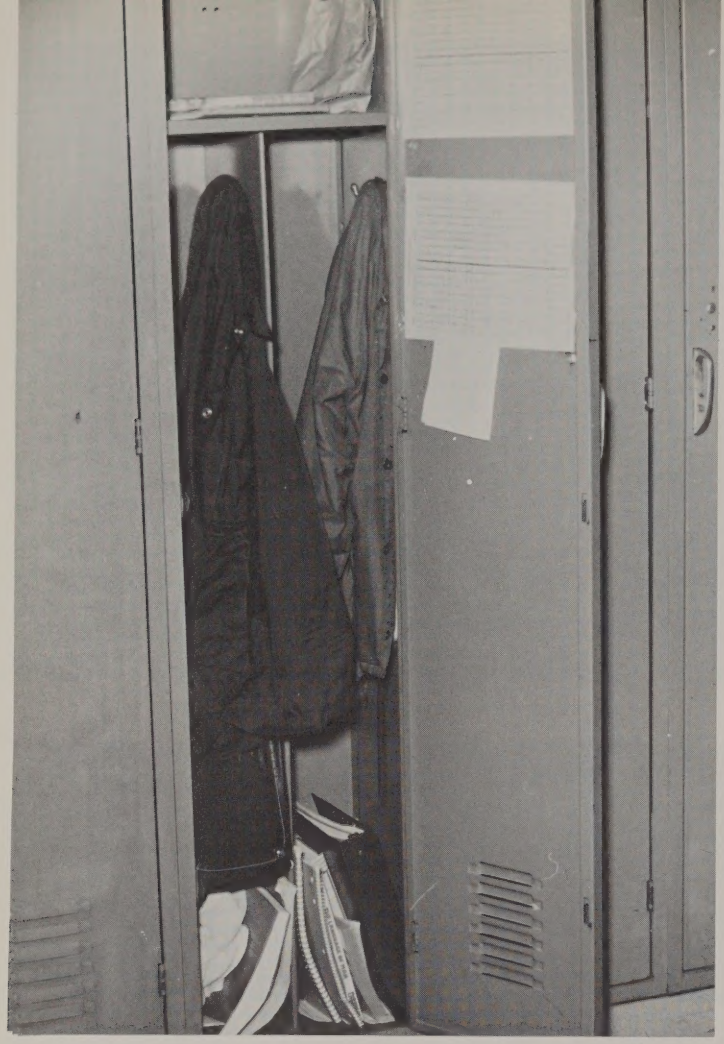
The years we've spent went by so fast,
It's hard to think that they have passed.

The memories of fun and more
Leave with us through the door.

Your help was welcomed very much,
We'll go away but keep in touch.

We'll try our best to succeed,
Positive thinking is what we need.

Vicki Brown



Times of Life

In the morning when the earth stands still,
The sun rises slowly over the hill.

The day begins so pretty to see,
This peaceful time is gentle and free.

We learn and love; we live and grow,
God made the world for this to show.

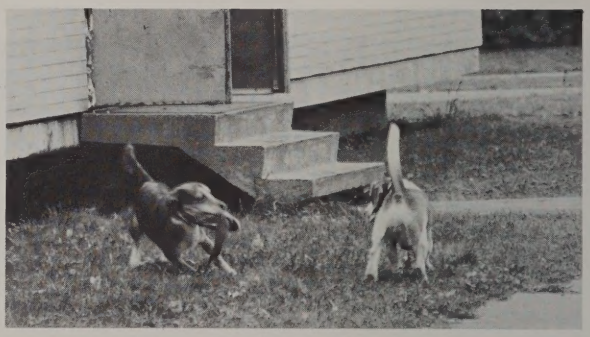
Look around and see what's here,
The beauty of each day is near.

The deep blue color that fills the sky
Disappears and seems to die.

The stars that glow of golden light
Are heaven's guidance through the night.

The simple moments are here to share,
Take time to look, they're always there.

Vicki Brown



Farewell Now, My Friend

I love you, my friend
You're quite dear to me,
A true friend you are
And always will be.
But you're leaving me soon
And going your own way,
Perhaps we will meet
In the future some day.
You've left me with memories
Of good times we've had,
To treasure forever
And make me feel glad.
I wish you good luck
In all that you do
May all of life's pleasures
Come your way, too.
Farewell now, My friend
And please may you find
Some thoughts of me
Always in your mind.
